

Leading Lady and Girl Scout Alumna Danielle Ward Mason was named Principal at Beasley Allen Law Firm in 2015. She is the first African-American woman to achieve this status with the firm. She joined Beasley Allen as an Associate in 2009 and has spent the past seven years in the firm's Mass Torts section, investigating claims involving dangerous drugs and medical devices. Currently, Danielle is the lead attorney handling the firm's Reglan litigation. Over the course of her legal and professional career, Danielle has been recognized and honored by a number of organizations and outside groups, including being named to the 2014 and 2015 Super Lawyers "Rising Stars" list, which recognizes the top up-and-coming attorneys – those who are 40 or younger, or who have been practicing 10 years or less; and in April 2016, she was included on the Law360 Rising Stars list, which also recognizes attorneys younger than 40 who excel in their profession. In June 2015, Danielle was selected as the 2015 Alabama Black Achievers Award Attorney of the Year by the Oliver Robinson Foundation, which recognizes African-Americans who give selflessly of their time and/or resources to make a difference in their communities. Danielle has also been named one of the "10 Best" Attorneys for Alabama by the American Institute of Personal Injury Attorneys and Beasley Allen's 2016 Mass Torts Lawyer of the Year.
